

Driving License: Long Interview Questions

Reduced sounds: ca nya – can you dju – do you

1. So, can you drive?
2. If you can, do you like driving?
3. If you can't, why haven't you started to learn?
4. Do you think it costs too much to learn?
5. Do you think it is better to take classes weekly or take an intensive driver's course?
6. So, why do we learn to drive?
7. Why are there so many people with a license but don't drive?
8. How often do you drive?
9. Do you have your own car?
10. Do you listen to music or the radio when driving?
11. What are you careful about when you drive?
12. Do you think cars are convenient?
13. Do you prefer to sit in the passenger seat or the driver's seat?
14. When is the best age to start to learn to drive?
15. Do you think young drivers are more dangerous than senior drivers?
16. Why do you think that?
17. When is the right age for a senior to return their license?
18. Do you think the government has a fair system in deciding this?
19. Why have there been more cases of dangerous driving by the elderly?
20. Do you think that each elderly person should decide or should the government do more?
21. Why are so many elderly drivers so reluctant to give up their driver's license?
22. Should those at 70 years and above receive a reaction test-time or dementia test every year?
23. Do you think we need a system of regulating driver's licenses?
24. Are there any elderly members in your own family that still hold a driver's license?
25. Do you know or have friends who are elderly with a driver's license?
26. Do you think they will happily return their driver's license?
27. Are there any elderly members in your own family who have refused to return their driver's license?
28. Do you think the number of accidents involving the elderly will increase in the future?
29. Should the maximum legal age be capped at 70 years old?
30. Are you confident that when you are in your senior years, you will not be stubborn in giving up your license?

Useful vocabulary

To be reluctant
Dementia
To regulate
To be capped

Do not want to do this
Inability to remember, think, or make decisions
Control the system by having rules
To have a maximum limit